Pope Francis to go to COP 28 in Dubai:

Pope Francis, who chose his name after St. Francis of Assisi, has, since the start of his papacy, drawn attention to the need to protect our Common Home. This dedication led him to write his 2015 landmark encyclical on the environment, Laudato si, and this year his subsequent encyclical, Laudate Deum. This marks the first time a Pope has attended the UN climate summit.

Synod Report: After four weeks of work, the General Assembly concluded its first session in the Vatican. Women and the laity, diaconate, ministry and magisterium, peace and the climate, the poor and migrants, ecumenism and identity, new languages and renewed structures, old and new missions (including the “digital” mission), listening to all and probing everything more deeply, even the most ‘controversial’ issues. In the Synthesis there is a renewed look at the world and the Church and their demands. There is opportunity if it does, the whole of Europe could open up. If not, he will head back to more familiar territory. It is 49AD and after leaving Thessalonica and a very small Christian community he goes to Corinth. A few months later he writes 2 letters to then to encourage, correct and explain more about Jesus returning.
